DILLY
BUMS
BOUTIQUE

We started Dilly Bums Boutique on Small Business Saturday in November of 2020. My love for creating started when I was very young, but my love for sewing began when I was looking for unique and creative prints that I couldn't find anywhere else! My favorite styles are more neutral and earthy, but I hope you can find a variety of colors and patterns that fit yours and baby's style. Our goal is to find unique and high-quality fabric that you can't find everywhere else. Our home is a little hectic at times... I'm a full-time working mama in a career that I love. My husband does all of the behind the scenes work, including the website, shipping, and so much more. We have TWO wild toddlers and two Golden Retrievers, but we love the craziness! You'll notice items/sizes are very limited, because we've worked very hard since opening to make our side business something manageable with our work, spending time with family, and being present in every moment with our babes! BUT that means the pieces you receive are truly one-of-a-kind. Our name, "Dilly Bums", was derived from our little Dilly girl, aka Dylan Avery Lee and my first sewing project (bummies) that are perfect for every season. I'm also a proud boy mama to an energetic 3-year-old, Harrison Brooks!
